Class History

This is just a brief record of some of the major events of our high school days. It does not reflect the spirit and emotion of every one of our high school experiences. Those feelings are to be treasured by the individual and cannot be completely captured in a yearbook. So here we go, back to the beginning . . .

Freshman Year

September 9, 1973, marked the dawn of a new era when the doors of C.H.L.S. opened wide to welcome us, innocent freshmen.

As we began our high school career, Michael L. Turner started his as headmaster. We were guinea pigs for a re-vamped bell schedule and were told that we would be stuck in first-floor homerooms for the rest of our high school stay. We had to follow the ABC lunch schedule, but most of us did not take full advantage of it until our senior year. We were introduced to common errors and later discovered their true value when we took the many standardized tests.

This year marked the end of the Vietnam War. For the first time in many years our country was at peace. With the end of the war came the return of the P.O.W.'s and the naturalization of the refugees.

We also saw the beginning of great turmoil, the political intrigue called Watergate. The initial discovery of the Watergate incident set off a series of investigations that rocked the nation.

Sports teams had varying degrees of success. The football team won its first, last, and only game of the season on Turkey Day at Russell Field. The Cantabs downed the Warriors 18-6. This was the last Turkey Day victory we would see. The soccer team made the states. The boys basketball team, however, had their first winless season.

Some of us who were more daring were initiated to the traditional French Club trip to Canada. The annual Christmas concert focused on a salute to composer Leroy Anderson.

Sophomore Year

Now we were no longer "the freshmen." We became more familiar with names connected to school activities. Mr. Mike Weaver became the new football coach because Mr. James Coady was appointed Assistant Headmaster.

Harvard Stadium was the site of the Turkey Day game which we lost in a gallant effort. This game was complete with a half-time show.

The girls' basketball team won the Suburban League Championship with a 15-1 record. They qualified to play in the state tournament, but lost their first game to Lincoln-Sudbury. The boys continued to lose and the field hockey team missed qualifying for the States by one goal.

Junior Year

We began this year with a new Superintendent, William C. Lannon, and a visit from Senator Ted Kennedy. A slushy Turkey Day was next on our calendar; the result was a disappointing 8-0 loss to Rindge. The Cambridge Rockettes made their debut at the game.

Stars were born when Channel 4's Len Berman tried to capture the boys' basketball team in a victorious moment, but never succeeded. The girls' team . . . ahh, there is a different story; they once again overpowered the Suburban League with a 16-0 record. Then they hit the road for the tourney and became North Sectional Champions. Ironically, Channel 4 was there to cover their victorious moments. Even though the team lost, the faculty of C.H.L.S. made the girls feel like winners at the testimonial dinner.

The softball team captured the Suburban League crown and qualified for post-season play. The girls lost in their second appearance, but we know that they're number one.

When the time came around to order our class rings, we broke a school tradition. Not satisfied with Josten's work, we opted for Dieges and Clust. The Homeroom Representatives met with the head of the company's art department to design the rings.

The Music Department impressed everyone at the spring concert held at Sanders Theater with a professional presentation of Carmena Burana.

With the Bicentennial came the end of an era. Miss Marie Hyde, after over forty years of service to the children of Cambridge, retired. Along with Miss Hyde's retirement came the end of the G.A.A. We left for summer vacation with visions of senior year dancing in our heads.

Senior Year

On our return, we noticed more Rindge jackets floating around the building and some new faculty faces.

October brought class elections. After weeks of putting up posters and campaigning frantically, the victors emerged; Paul Bentubo, president; Mary Hayes, vice-president; Rose Shea, treasurer; and Linda Pritchard, secretary. Lucy Chicariello, Paul Harkins, Lurena Lee, Doreen Thibodeau, Collette Westphal, Jack Winn, and Sarah Scoble were elected to Executive Board positions.

The field hockey team finished second in the Suburban League and Captain Nancy Manganelli led the team into the States only to be defeated by Ipswich. The girls' swimming team made their way to a third place finish in the Suburban League, their best finish in many seasons. The volleyball team, led by senior co-captains Terry Shinkwin and Kay Rossi, blasted their way to the first State Championship ever held in Massachusetts.

Next on the agenda was Turkey Day. After some concerned members of the newly formed Athletic Club won the right for the students to have a rally, the Harvard Stadium hex prevailed as the Cantabs lost 14-7.

For the first year girls had a separate indoor track season and our team performed with flourish. Led by Captain Liz Skelton, they became the first female Suburban League Indoor Champions.

After seasons of frustration and disappointment, the boys' basketball team came through and defeated Concord-Carlisle.

As of this writing, it looks as if the girls will once again win the Suburban League and maybe this year, their "Impossible Dream" will be realized.

January was a cold month, but at the end the student body generated some heat. When the proposed name of the new high school was to be the Frederick H. Rindge Memorial High School, five-hundred students of C.H.L.S. and Rindge walked out of classes. The students' interest in the matter caused the School Committee to reconsider their decision and form an advisory committee to decide the issue.

This year some of us were able to vote. The election of Jimmy Carter was the third change of Presidents during our high school days.

Musically the year was highlighted by the Christmas Concert at the M.I.T. Kresge Auditorium. The Chamber Ensemble made their debut performance at the Wind Ensembles-Brass Choir Concert at the Busch-Weisinger Museum.

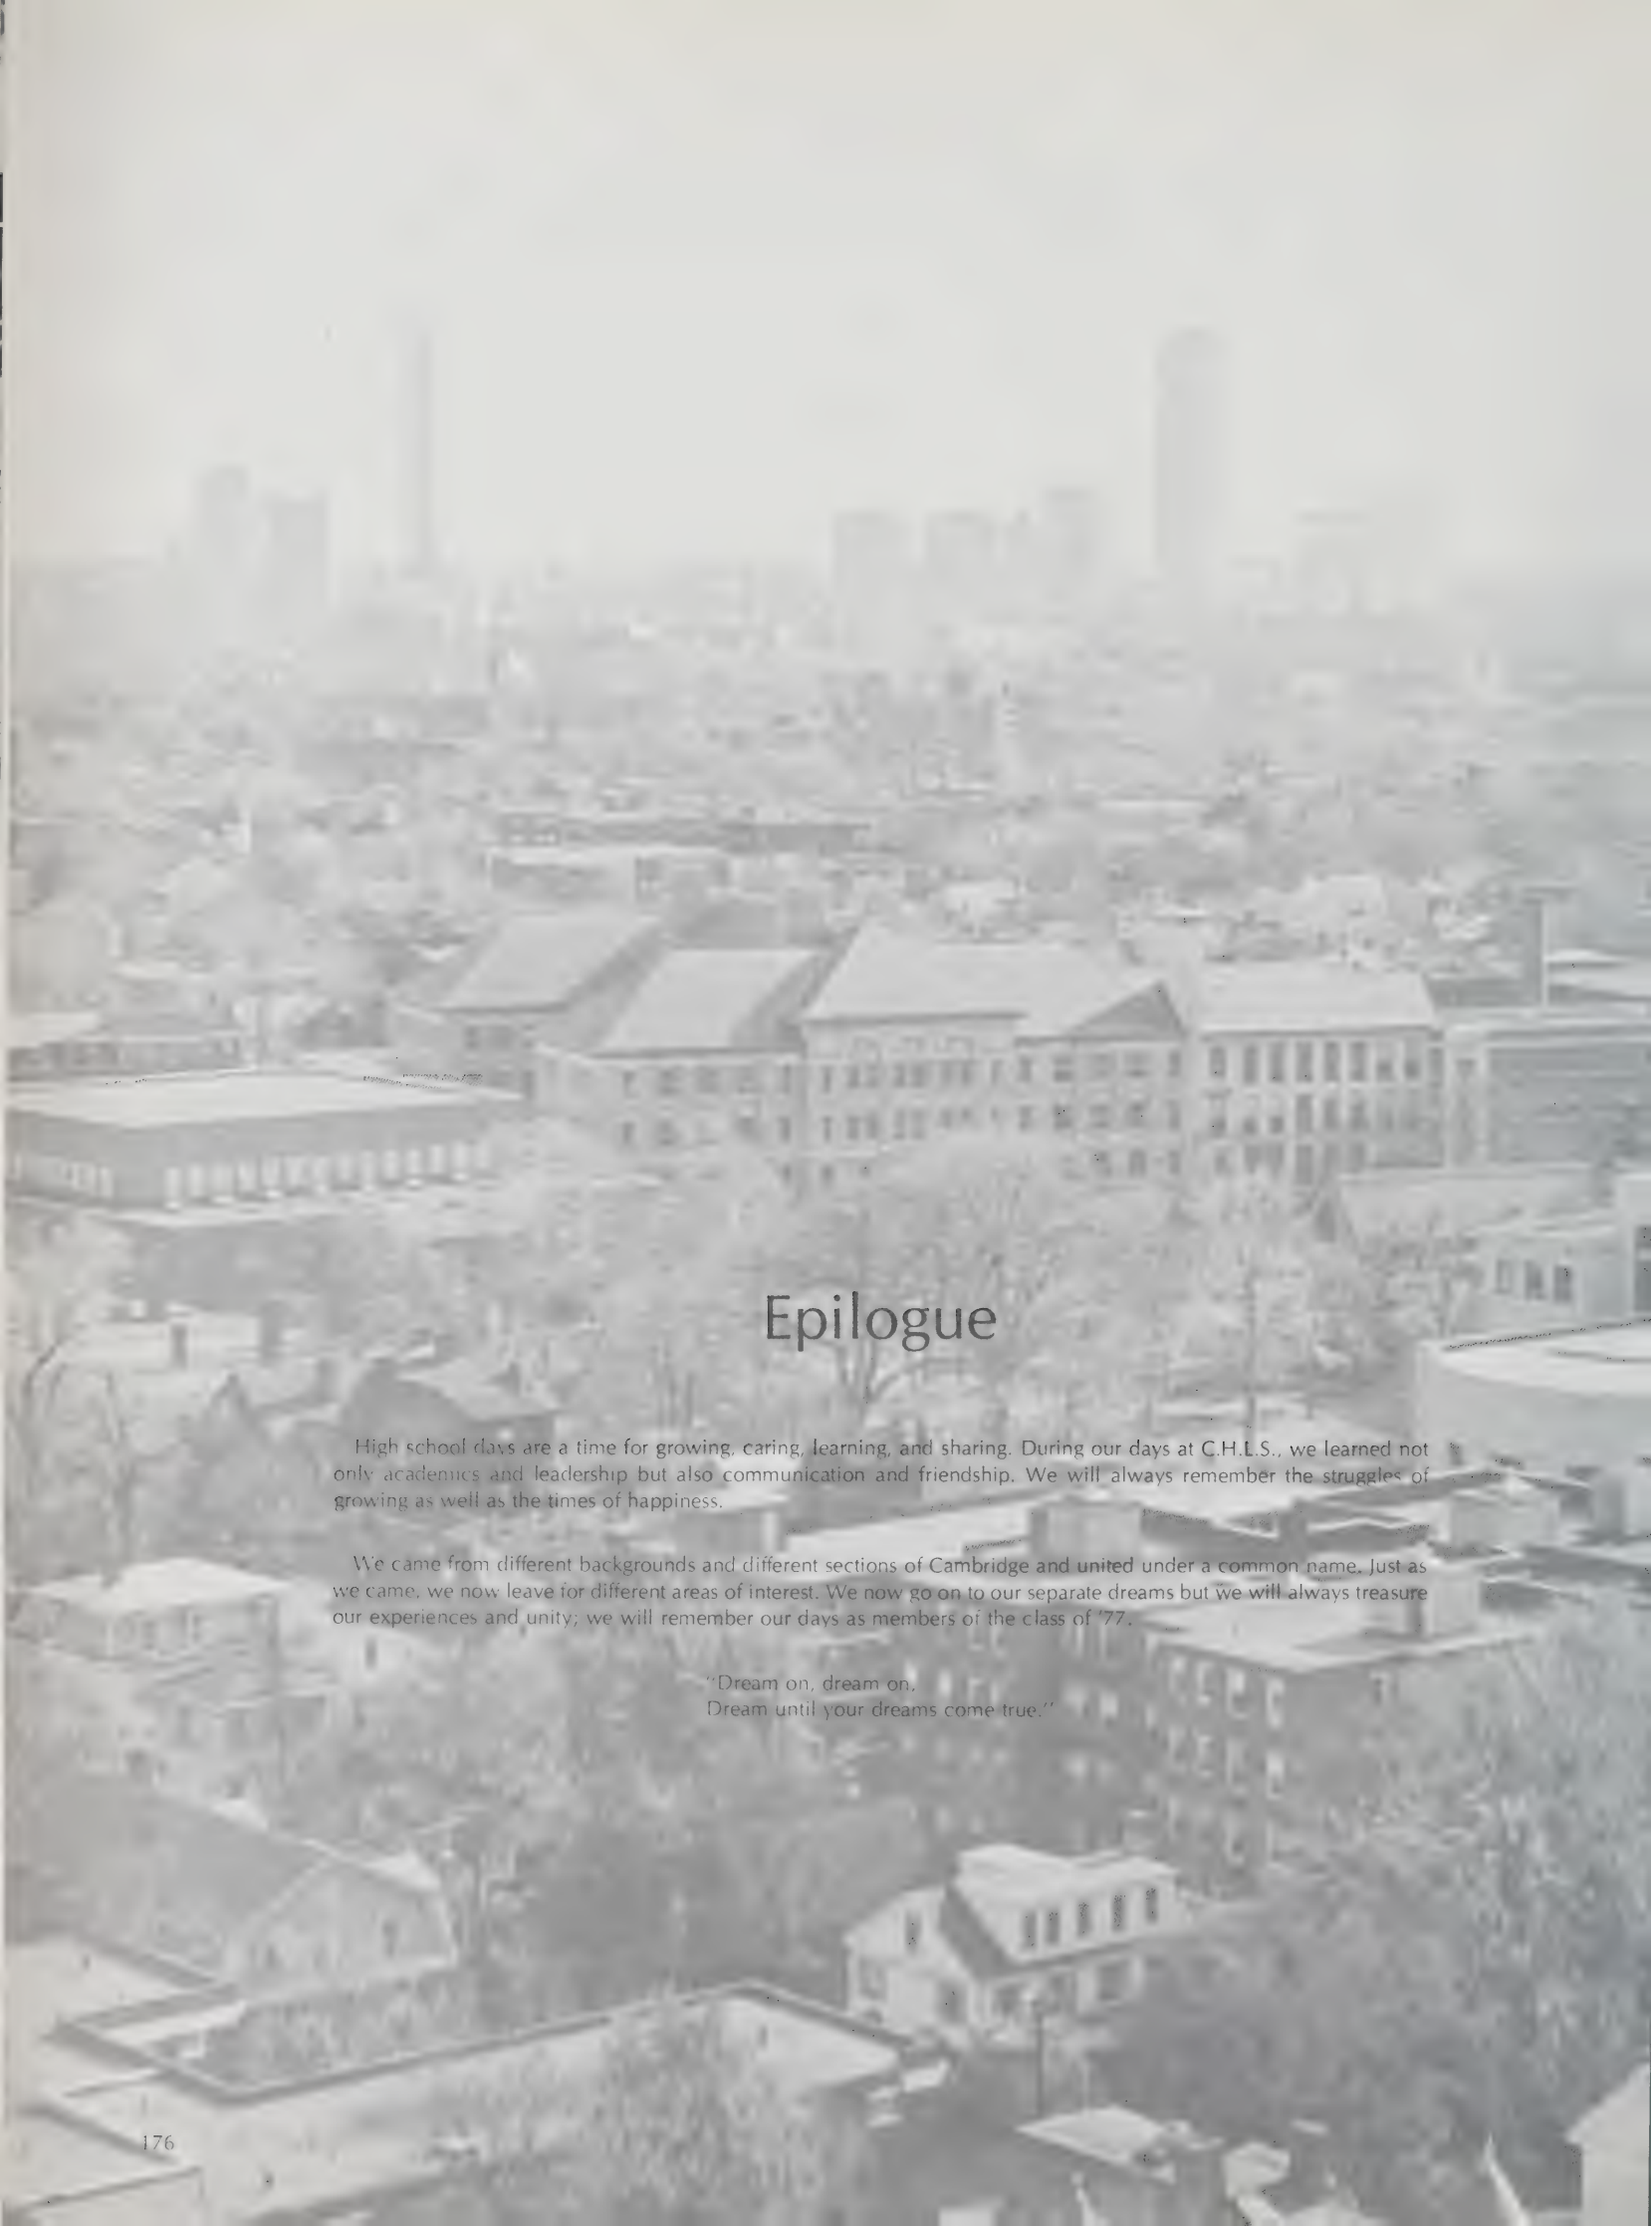
Looking back on the past four years, we have mixed feelings; we have had our moments of victory, defeat, happiness, and sadness. S.A.T.'s, college applications, and guidance counselors are all well known to us now. Some of us feel that we are wiser after our high school years, but others of us know that we have much to learn. As we enter the world of work, college, or the armed services, we should consider ourselves lucky to have graduated from an institution as fine as C.H.L.S. The prestige of having attended the second oldest high school in the country will follow us forever. We wish all people connected with the new school the best of luck and hope that it will be as good as C.H.L.S. was.

We, the class of 1977, wish to thank everyone who helped us make it through four of the most memorable, decisive, and enjoyable years of our lives. The days flew by all too quickly.

IN MEMORY

Steven Occhialini

Parting for far shores,
  Too fast the tide of life flows;
Ebbing, waning, gone.
Kiyo Nagatomi



Epilogue

High school days are a time for growing, caring, learning, and sharing. During our days at C.H.L.S., we learned not only academics and leadership but also communication and friendship. We will always remember the struggles of growing as well as the times of happiness.

We came from different backgrounds and different sections of Cambridge and united under a common name. Just as we came, we now leave for different areas of interest. We now go on to our separate dreams but we will always treasure our experiences and unity; we will remember our days as members of the class of '77.

"Dream on, dream on,
Dream until your dreams come true."
